Verse 1

How can you accept this heart
Broken, tired, and torn apart
Undeserving of Your love
Somehow your grace is still enough

Chorus

Even though I don't deserve it
I try so hard to comprehend
God you know I'm so unworthy
But I know you love me

Even though I fail you so much
I can't explain the way you love
God you know I'm so imperfect
But I know you love me

Verse 2

Why exchange your life for mine
Each worthless breath short of divine
Create in me, so beautiful
A heart that's purified like gold

Bridge

Break down my walls, Burst through my doors
Invade my life with your presence
Mold me and shape me like the clay
Invade my life with your presence
