Verse 1

My life is a puzzle
I'm trusting in You to connect all the pieces that still need completing

Can't see where I'm heading
Your voice is the brush
That is painting the picture to notice Your leading

Chorus 1

When understanding fades
I'm leaning on the everlasting Weakness, strength or pain
You've walked beside me through everything

Two natures competing Though the spirit is willing My flesh is the rival

When my will is on empty
Your river is rushing
With springs of new life
That have me overflowing

I'm confident in grace because You put the stars in their place
I know You'll never change
'cause age to age You're always the same
